

If you get SNAP benefits, some families can get more benefits.

There are also changes to help you keep your benefits.

SNAP Households to get an Extra SNAP

- This benefit will be for March and April 2020
- You will get the highest monthly SNAP amount allowed for your family size
- Unfortunately, SNAP households already receiving the highest amount will not get more SNAP
- This will go directly onto EBT cards; you do not need to ask DSS to do this
 - March increase should go onto EBT cards within the next few days

Here is the USDA's SNAP Highest Monthly Amount by house size:*

Starting April 1st

The ABAWD Work Condition for Adults Without Dependents is Stopped.
South Carolina's work requirement for some adults to keep on getting SNAP past three months will be stopped until further notice.

- If you lost SNAP benefits due to the time limit you should reapply for SNAP on April 1st
 - TANF work conditions will also not be required during this time period

SNAP Recertification Delayed for April and May 2020

- SNAP households who are due to recertify in April or May 2020 will not need to do so. DSS will not be mailing out recertification paperwork for these months
 - Note: If you were due to recertify in March 2020, your paperwork or interviews were due March 15th, and you still must comply.
 - If you did not make the deadline, notify DSS immediately by calling your local DSS office and asking for your SNAP case to stay open.
